SUMMARY

Petropavlovsk Army Barracks is located 5 kilometers (km) east-southeast of Petropavlovsk-Kamchatskiy (Figure 1).

The installation covers approximately 1,175 acres and contains 269 buildings, including 3 administration buildings, 8 probable barracks, 9 large quarters-type housing units, 78 small quarters-type housing units, 19 storage buildings, 13 probable explosives storage buildings, 3 vehicle sheds, 128 support buildings, 6 range control/support buildings, and 2 unidentified multistory buildings. It also contains an athletic/parade field, an open storage area, 3 motor parks, a driver-training course, and a tank/assault-gun firing range (Figures 2 and 3).

The installation has been covered by KEY-

HOLE missions of interpretable quality between [REDACTED]. Comparative analysis reveals that the installation was constructed prior to [REDACTED] and probably [REDACTED]. However, poor quality photography precludes identifying buildings on [REDACTED] coverage. A driver-training circuit was first observed on [REDACTED] coverage. Significant changes include the construction of a tank/assault-gun firing range by [REDACTED] and a vehicle shed between [REDACTED]. Track activity in the barracks area has remained light. Activity in the training areas has fluctuated from heavy in [REDACTED] to light [REDACTED].
